

Boris Cherniak was recommended by a colleague who has seen him perform in the past. He did everything we'd hoped for and more.

The presentation was personalized for our attendees and delivered flawlessly. Boris was a pleasure to deal with from our initial interaction, to mingling with attendees after his presentation. It was a perfect blend of motivation and entertainment. The material was funny, relevant, interactive and set the tone of fun and excitement for the rest of the night.

On stage, Boris was well researched, thoroughly prepared and made the audience feel like he was a part of our group. The event was filled with renowned heart surgeons, nurses, researchers and executives who were all entertained and amazed to see their colleagues hypnotized.

Boris captivated everyone's attention with hilarious material and undeniable charm. We highly recommend him to entertain and engage an audience for any event.
